HARDIN COUNTY FARMER KILLED

Man Near Dola Strangled As Clothing Is Caught in Combine Harvester.

Special to The Star
KENTON, Nov. 15.—Lester Owen Rodabaugh, 31, of near Dola was strangled to death about 3:30 p. m. Sunday when his clothes were caught in a power take-off on a tractor combine in operation on the farm of his father-in-law, Carey Cummings, one mile north of Dola.

Rodabaugh, who was harvesting a crop of soybeans alone, apparently was removing beans from a combine when his clothes were caught in a power take-off. The moving gears shredded most of the clothing about the upper part of his body and finally drew the suspenders of his overalls around his neck.

His body was discovered about a half hour later by Mr. Cummings, who noticed the machinery was not in motion. He left the farm house and quickly went to the field to see if something had gone wrong with the machinery. When he arrived Rodabaugh was dead.

J. A. Mooney, Hardin county coroner, returned a verdict of accidental death.

Rodabaugh's collar bones were fractured along with his left shoulder. He was born Oct. 1, 1911 in Hardin county and is survived by his wife, Lucille, two sons, Gerald, 6, and Marion, 1, and a daughter, Marilyn, 4. A brother, Chester Rodabaugh Jr., who is in the Navy, survives.

The body was removed to the Preston funeral home at Ada. Funeral arrangements will be completed later. His home was on a farm six miles northwest of Dola.

Tin cans must be properly prepared. Paper labels removed, both ends turned inside and the can flattened — before they can be accepted for salvage. Collections in the county will start at a later date. In the near future the county salvage chairman, Clyde C. Caldwell, and George Alber, expect to announce a regular schedule of collections.

Former Journalist in Japan Tells Forum U. S. Will Take Tokyo by 1945

Marion Speaker Says United States Must Undertake To Police World for 50 Years After War.

RA HALLIE HOUCK

As soon as I stand here today, I believe that in the not distant future, by December of 1945, American soldiers will march through the streets of Tokyo. Jack Morrow, for 17 years a newspaper man in the Far East, declared yesterday in a lecture at Central Junior High school opening the 1942-43 season of the Marion Community Forum.

Some 500 men and women in the audience greeted the remark with applause and they applauded again a few seconds later when he said: "As a war veteran I say to you we must make the peace last—there cannot be another Versailles. We don't want a diplomatic peace, we want the peace of the people."

In a question and answer period after his talk, which was one of the most to-date lectures ever given in Marion, Mr. Morrow said that destroying the Imperial family would not destroy the Japanese national religion, Shintoism, which is the driving force of the nation.

"The answer is no," he said. "That policing would be a benevolent policing that would not permit racketeers to take advantage of the misfortunes of the people... with that police force would go assurance of the people wanting to live their own lives in their own way... it will be a job of half a century but can you think of any greater incentive to American youth than that in 50 years there will be a world of peace... Three-fourths of this world history—was brought in after less than three hours deliberation by a mixed jury."

The convicted relatives and friends of the executed Nazi saboteur, Herbert Haupt, were all German born, naturalized citizens in modest circumstances and without previous criminal records. They were Mr. and Mrs. Hans Haupt, parents of the saboteur; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Froehling, uncle and aunt of young Haupt; and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wergin, friends of the Haupt family.

The six were charged with giving "aid and comfort" to young Haupt while he laid the groundwork of his plans for sabotage in which he had been trained in Germany. He and five fellow saboteurs were executed in Washington last Aug. 2. Two others received long prison sentences.

Federal Judge William J. Campbell indicated he would for next Friday their punishment which ranges from five years in prison and $10,000 fine to death.

Their conviction in federal court Saturday night—only the second such verdict in 148 years of American history—was brought in after less than three hours deliberation by a mixed jury.

force of the nation, "because they would find someone else, a ninety-ninth cousin, to give control to." He explained that there never can be a woman ruler of the nation, that communism is brought in until a son is born to the ruling emperor, and that many of the leading families of the nation adopt brilliant boys and make them full members of the family.

Christian Japs Suffer

In response to a question as to whether the Japanese now are antagonistic toward the Christian Japanese, Mr. Morrow declared: "I absolutely do think they are antagonistic toward the Christian Japanese, and I wouldn't be surprised that one of the cruelest stories of the war will be how many were exterminated after Dec. 7, 1941."

At one point in his talk Mr. Morrow said it would be necessary for the United States to police the countries on the losing side of the war during a 50-year period when it will be necessary to prove to them that democracy will work. A member of the audience asked whether that policy wouldn't put the United States in the military grip.

"The answer is no," he said. "That policing would be a benevolent policing that would not permit racketeers to take advantage of the misfortunes of the people... with that police force would go assurance of the people wanting to live their own lives in their own way... it will be a job of half a century but can you think of any greater incentive to American youth than that in 50 years there will be a world of peace... "It was the death blow to liberalism in Japan... that was the stupid thing in the diplomatic history of the United States... at that time the Japanese foreign office was leaning backward to keep the gentleman's agreement between the United States and Japan that no Japanese could enter the territory of the United States—the only violators were Americans smuggling Japanese across Mexico into California... we are the divergent ends of two civilizations that simply cannot live together but we can live as friends. It could have been handled differently. It was the one thing that put the military back in the saddle and led to Dec. 7, 1941."

Wyandot County Man's Wedding Gets Radio Spot

Winchell Reports Sgt. Baker's Marriage to Life Magazine Employee.

One of the chief topics of conversation in Wyandot county this morning was the marriage of one of their young farmers, now in the Army, to a New York girl who is well enough known as Broadway to take a spot on Walter Winchell's weekly Sunday night radio program.

The bride is Miss Patricia T. Hill, who is on the photography staff of Life magazine, and the bridegroom is Sgt. Floyd E. Baker, 32, son of M. and Mrs. Guy Baker of seven miles north-east of Sycamore.

Their marriage took place last evening in the Little Church Around the Corner, famed scene of many of the most romantic marriages of the great and near-great along the Great White Way.

Present to witness the ceremony was the bridegroom's mother and his brother, Richard.

Father Missed It
First inkling that most Wyandot countrymen had of the romance came last night in the marriage announcement broadcast by Winchell. Sergeant Baker's father, sitting by the radio in his home, dozed off to sleep and didn't hear the broadcast but the constant ringing of his telephone for the next hour revealed that actually everyone else in the vicinity had heard the brief item over the air.

That there was to be a wedding wasn't news to Mr. Baker. His wife and son left last week to be present for the ceremony, plans of which were discussed two weeks ago when Sergeant Baker brought his fiancée home to meet his parents.

Farm Residents
The Baker family, living on one of the largest and most modern farms in the community, moved there about eight years ago and in the intervening years have become prominent residents of the community.

Sergeant Baker, a graduate of the Newark, O., High school, helped his father operate the farm up until the time he enlisted in the Army a year and a half ago. He has been stationed in the east during most of his time in service.

PACIFIC NAVAL BATTLE STILL IN PROGRESS

U. S. and Australian Troops Unite for Attack on Buna in New Guinea.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The Japanese and American ships sparred with each other in a battle of maneuver today in allied jungle fighters closed in on the enemy stronghold at Buna, New Guinea.

The Navy reported that a determined effort was underway by the Japanese to capture positions in the Guadalcanal-Pillbox area of the Solomon islands, but said details would be withheld until the outcome of a running sea battle was decided.

The action at sea was described as "hot and run, hot and cold, hot and run."

Numerous enemy surface forces are active in the southern Solomons in an attempt to reinforce the enemy troops now on Guadalcanal and to disrupt our delivery supply to our forces which now occupy three points in this area. The Navy reported.

"The engagements are continuing."

While official details were lacking here, the German radio broadcast a Tokyo dispatch declaring the fight would "decisively influence the whole war situation" and J. M. Mason, Australian Navy minister, said in Melbourne that the outcome might determine whether Australia is invaded.

Allied bombers, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's command and an umbrella force of American and Australian ground troops as they converged for an attack on Buna.

"The Australian and American columns are in contact with each other and are jointly moving in to attack," said a communiqué.

"The enemy, under command of Lieut. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, now faces the allies to the west and south, with the jungle and the sea at his back. Our air force is attacking without respite."

No mention was made of an enemy convoy previously reported off New Georgia Island, northwest of Guadalcanal, which apparently was aimed at strengthening the Japanese forces that have been trying vainly to capture Henderson field.

One 12,000-ton transport in the convoy was reported off by allied aircraft.

Heavy bombers also scored direct hits on two enemy ships in the harbor at Rabaul, New Britain, and started fires in the supply dump area at Malakal and in the docks area, where eight explosions were observed.

ENEMY SENDS 10,000 MEN TO STOP ADVANCE

British and U. S. Troops Ready; Hitler Orders His Force To Hold.

By The Associated Press
The axis admitted today that it had moved German and Italian forces into the French protectorate of Tunisia, and British and American fighting men came to grips with them there with an evident determination to give Hitler and Mussolini a taste of Dunkerque.

An Italian communiqué said "Italian and German troops have landed in Tunisia with the approval of civil and military French authorities."

Whatever French civil and military authorities the Italians had in this version, they obviously did not include stout-hearted French garrisons of the Bizerte naval base and the Tunis airfields who welcomed the invaders only with bullets and put up what resistance their limited forces permitted.

Allied sources who had said the axis troops were in Tunisia by the middle of last week, estimated that the initial force aggregated 10,000, and said desperate attempts were being made to reinforce them by sea and air.

Ready for Attack
The British and American assault force from eastern Algeria steamed across the border into the attack, apparently ready for any issue and able to back up its bid for Bizerte and Tunisia with a powerful force.

The Germans reported bombing the airfield and port of Bone, the eastern Algeria advance base of the British-American attack.

Reuters said it received a broadcast by the Morocco radio reporting that Hitler had ordered German forces in Tunisia to hold on at any cost.

Without giving the source of its report, Reuters said in London that Hitler was reported to be in Munich where it said he had been called on the carpet by Hitler.

The Moroccan radio said new United States contingents were streaming into North Africa from numerous landing points, and that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, commander of the AEF, had moved east to be nearer to the new fighting.

This was the first regular action by United States ground troops against the Germans since the closing days of World War I when the doughboys and their French allies smashed through German defenses along the Meuse river and drove through the Argonne forest in an offensive that ended with the Armistice of Nov. 11, 1918.

In the new meeting, the Americans were part of a predominately British assault force under Gen. K. A. N. Anderson, who declared he was wanted to smash the enemy as quickly as possible and kick Hitler in the pants in cooperation with the British Eighth army from Egypt.

Action on Other Fronts
Elsewhere on the European-Africa warfront:
Field Marshal Rommel was reported still in flight, racing down the road from Bengasi to El Agheila where he was expected to try one more stand on the battlefield where he stopped another British army in 1941—a battlefield more than 500 costly miles from El Alamein, Egypt, and still 400 miles short of the score port of Tripoli.

For the fourth time this month English-owned British bombers brought the war of bombardment round home to Italy in a 1,500-mile round trip raid last night on Genoa. It was the RAF's second attack in three nights on the badly-battered naval base and supply port for North Africa.

In Russia the Red army struck in apparent determination to take advantage of the Germans' preoccupation in North Africa. The Russians beat off Nazi attacks in Stalingrad, scored gains in the central Caucasus, and wrested a "piece of great tactical importance" from the Germans on the Volkhov front between Lake Ilmen and Leningrad.

The Vichy radio broadcast a dispatch from La Linea, Spain, reporting that two allied battleships, two aircraft carriers, four cruisers and nine destroyers sailed into the Mediterranean from Gibraltar this morning. Such a force could hit heavily at axis efforts to open troop reinforcement lanes to Tunisia across the central Mediterranean.

A Moscow broadcast quoting the Turkish newspaper Ikdam said that once the allies had cleaned the axis out of North Africa they could be expected to occupy the islands of Crete, Sardinia and Corsica and "make their first

FARM PRODUCTION COURSE PLANNED

First Session To Be Held Tuesday at Morral.

A production course aimed to assist in more efficient and larger farm production as an aid to winning the war will be offered to young and adult farmers of the Morral and Harpster-Little Sandusky school communities in night classes to start Tuesday night 7:30 in the Morral school.

The course will be offered by the vocational agricultural departments of the two schools. The farm enterprises to be studied will depend upon the wishes of those who attend the first session. If the attendance from each community justifies, it is planned to alternate meeting places between the schools and if it is desired the meeting night will be changed.

Each meeting will last an hour and a half and will be followed by a recreation period.

His 100% . . . Your Ten Per Cent

THE eager acceptance by the rank and file of Americans of the opportunity to invest in War Bonds and Stamps is not only a manifestation of the inherent sound, common sense of the American people, but it is proof positive there is no complacency here . . . that patriotism runs high and that the spirit of independence which made of us a great nation is still virile and strong. But we have not done enough.

Almost fifty millions of Americans have invested more than nine billion dollars in War Bonds. Not in decades has any single effort aroused such a sense of pride in America; such fervor in the hearts of America's freemen, as has the campaign to sell War Bonds.

From hamlet and by-way . . . from city and highway . . . from the plains to the mountains comes the voluntary challenge from the throats of these millions of Americans—"This is our America. We shall defend her." But we have not started to sacrifice. We've only begun to finance this war.

We must have more millions of farmers, more millions of workers in the industrial plants, more millions in office and store putting more and more billions into War Bonds before we reach the goal of 10 per cent of the nation's gross payroll invested in War Bonds. No person, gainfully employed should shirk. Everybody must join the Payroll Savings Plan for regular deductions of earnings for War Bonds to the extent of 10 per cent. Where there is no Payroll Savings Plan available, regular investment of 10 per cent of income must be done individually.

The Treasury Department is sponsoring a more intensive campaign with the slogan "Top That Ten Per Cent by New Year's." That means 10 per cent of the nation's gross payroll must go into War Bonds by the first of the year.

Love of country, love of home and love of our American Way of Life should spark this great voluntary and Democratic method of financing this war . . . which is our war . . . your war. For your boy, your husband, your father, your sweetheart is there on the battle front, on the high seas, in the air, in the training camps ready to give his all for you and country.

To make his hundred per cent worth while . . . we must have your 10 per cent.

Over the Top by New Year's Is the Plea of Secretary Morgenthau

November 15, 1942

As of today twenty-one million American workers are investing eight per cent of their salary every pay day—in United States War Savings Bonds. This is a very remarkable tribute to our armed forces who are fighting this war. But this job is only two-thirds accomplished.

There are nine million additional American workers who are not investing in War Bonds every pay day.

This appeal is directed to two groups of Americans:

First—the twenty-one million people who are investing eight per cent of their wages. We ask them to increase their investment to ten per cent or more.

Second—the other nine million whom we ask to join the Payroll Savings Plan and to invest ten per cent or more of their earnings.

It is our earnest hope here at the Treasury Department that by New Year's Day thirty million Americans will be investing ten per cent or more of their wages in War Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan.

Caution Seen in Churchill's Talk About Final Blow To Level Nazis.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The British prime minister, Winston Churchill, today made a statement in the House of Commons which was interpreted by many observers as a warning that the British government was not prepared to make any further concessions to the German government in the event of a final blow to level the Nazis.

How 18-19 Draft Will Help Army

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Here are answers, based upon official statements and estimates, to questions on the effect of the teen-age draft bill.

Q. How many 18 and 19-year-olds will be eligible for military service?

A. Approximately 2,400,000 registered last June 30 and another 1,800,000 who have reached 18 since then or will do so during the next year will probably be registered Jan. 1, 1943.

Q. Will they all be drafted?

A. No. Many of the June 30 registrants have already reached 20 and been inducted, many more have volunteered for the army, navy, marines or coast guard or enlisted in reserve units, many are physically unfit, and some will be deferred on occupational or dependency grounds.

Q. How many actually will enter the fighting forces?

A. About 800,000 to 900,000 physically fit men who have not volunteered are left over from the June 30 registrations, and about 1,275,000 other physically fit teen-agers should register during 1943. Most of them are expected to enlist or be drafted.

Q. How far will they go toward satisfying the foreseeable requirements of the military services?

A. They should furnish more than 2,000,000 of the 4,500,000 men needed by the end of next year to give the United States an army of 7,500,000, a navy of 1,500,000, and a marine and coast guard strength of 700,000, making our total fighting forces 9,700,000.

Q. When will they start drafting 18 and 19-year-olds who already are registered?

A. That depends upon what advance preparations local draft boards have made to meet calls with older men and how quickly the boards classify teen-agers as ready for service. Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey estimated inductions could begin generally in 30 to 40 days after the President signed the bill.

Q. What about the 18-year-olds who haven't been registered and those who become 18 later?

A. Regulations for their registration will be issued by the President, who may set strategic registration dates or provide that each youth shall register within a designated time after he reaches 18. After that, they will be subject to induction at the call of their draft boards.

Q. Will youths be taken out of school for the armed services?

A. Those in high school who are called during the last half of third party because of his overthrow in the recent election, according to a report from Washington. "The third party has never been successful in this country," said Mr. Gompers.

A dispatch from Constantinople stated representatives of the Kemalist government had notified the Allied high commissioners their fears of a Turkish outbreak were groundless and that terms with the Mudania armistice pact would be respected.

By direction of President Harding, Secretary Denby ordered the United States cruisers Cleveland and Denver to proceed at once to Hinasco, Chile with food, clothing and medical supplies for relief in the region recently devastated by an earthquake.

Charles D. Huston, 43, of Marion died in City hospital. He was an employee at the Harry Weller restaurant.

A daughter, Wilma Elleen, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Virgil C. Wiseman of Reed avenue.

Jay Lyon, 13, suffered a slight wound on his right knee in a hunting accident near his home at Caledonia.

The school year may be deferred until next July 1. If they ask it to finish out the year, Congressmen in reserve units will not be drafted, but will remain subject to call to active duty at any time. Other colleagues will be physically fit will be subject to induction.

Q. What will be the effect upon the colleges?

A. That hasn't been officially clarified yet. Rep. Springer (D-Ala.) said the army would put selected men in college courses of nine to 21 months at government expense, making the selections after these men have been inducted. The army has not received its plan. Nearly 30 small colleges closed before the teen-age draft passed.

Q. What effect will the teen-age draft have on married men?

A. It will lessen the number of them drafted to the extent to which teen-agers are taken to meet army calls. This could mean interruption of post-graduate education of married men for two months or more, or greatly ease calls upon them for that period and lighten such calls indefinitely. Generally speaking, it will practically assure married men with families that they will not be called before Oct. 1, 1943, at the earliest.

Almost every one has at some time or other seen sporadic meteors, or so-called "shooting stars," as they appear fairly frequently during any clear night. Showers of meteors come at stated times, and are usually observed best after midnight.

Meteors, which are for the most part tiny particles of matter, either metallic or stony, move in orbits around the sun as do the planets.

When a meteor shower is observed, that simply means that the earth's path has passed across one of the trails of meteoric particles. As these fragments rush at great speeds, many miles a second, through the earth's atmosphere, they glow because of the friction caused with the air. At the height of the Leonid shower a good average would be twenty meteors an hour.

The full moon comes this week on Sunday, the 22nd.

This morning, Nov. 16, and also for some mornings before and after, observers should be able to see the Leonid meteors. At various times during the year showers of meteors are observed, each shower appearing to radiate from a definite part of the sky.

The Leonid meteors are named after their radiant point which is in the constellation Leo the Lion. The fact that the meteors appear to radiate outward from a central point, like the spokes of an umbrella, is simply an effect of perspective.

Undersea Heroes

SUBMARINES, declares the Navy, have accounted for one-third of the Japanese ships and one-half of those destroyed. Airplanes accounted for most of the other damage, with the help of torpedo patrol boats.

Despite their importance—they are doing more damage to Japan than could be inflicted in any other way short of continuous bombing raids—submarines are almost wholly ignored as a vital weapon.

The undersea heroes who man them do not share in the applause that is given so freely to the topside fighters who work in the sky and on the ground. Only those who understand how naval wars are won can comprehend what the United States submarine fleet is doing to sap Japan's strength.

They have sunk at least 93 ships, probably another 21 and have damaged 27, a total of 141. Even if Japan is fortunate enough to have a Henry J. Kaiser to replace its losses, it must be feeling the pinch. The United States, which knows from bitter experience what a submarine blockade can do, can have no illusions about what is happening to Japan's shipping at the hands of its own submarine crews.

Another Championship

AGAIN has a Harding high school football team brought championship laurels to Marion, and for the season's excellent record congratulations go to all members of the squad and to the coaching staff. The congratulations are from the entire community, which invariably benefits from conquests in any field of sports.

Chief among the benefits are those which result from the lift that victory gives to community spirit and enthusiasm and to pride in home-town achievement.

Winners in any branch of sports, professional or amateur, have that stimulating effect, but none quite so much as those drawn from the ranks of a community's schools. The reasons are obvious. Here is competition between teams made up strictly and absolutely of players from the localities they represent. They are out to win, not only for themselves and their schools, but for the town they call home and when they do win it's natural that the town hails the honor as its own.

We have read in our sports column that as the season started Harding was not regarded as a probable permanent winner. Its prospects were placed at no higher than second. That being the case, its ultimate winning of the championship became an extra notable achievement for both the players and their coaching staff. It showed that all worked together effectively to overcome handicaps and strengthen weak spots and thus proved beyond doubt that they were of true championship caliber.

The entire record for the season is evidence that Harding had one of the best teams in its history and was in the hands of a coaching staff that also was one of the best. Victor Dorris has shown that he is a worthy and able successor to Bill Williams and he has an equally competent assistant in Joe Petrich.

No matter how many stars a football team may have on its roster, or even if it is an all-star outfit, it could not develop effective play without expert direction and supervision. Harding's record during this, the first season under Head Coach Dorris, proves that he can and does provide a coaching system of that type.

Transferring the Stigma

THE ITALIANS, it is evident, are getting the short end of it again from their German allies in Africa. In the pell-mell retreat, it is the Italians who are being left behind while the Germans save themselves.

While this is not unexpected, it may turn out to be extremely important. The Germans have taken an attitude of superiority toward Italians, who are accused of being over-inclined to do their fighting in reverse.

To offset this over-eagerness to save themselves, the Italians have been bolstered by the presence of Italian supermen to give them courage and fighting skill. But in the pinch the Italians are discovering that the supermen are no more inclined to fight against hopeless odds than they are.

In other words, it perhaps is downing on some millions of Italians that their betrayal by Mussolini and his castor oil gang has been even more shameful than they realized before. He not only sold them out, but permitted the purchaser to propagate the myth that his course somehow was greater than theirs—until circumstances called his bluff.

Prestige is extremely important in war. The Germans have lost a lot of it in Africa, in the presence of their own allies.

A LONG TIME, LET'S HOPE

"Wonder how long it will take us again to accumulate as much junk as was gathered in this drive?" asks Charlie Townsley in The Great Bend. (Kas.) Tribune. Much will depend, Charlie, on how long after this one, it will take us to accumulate another war.—Kansas City Star.

YET IT MAY HAPPEN

Of course, it might be carrying this patriotic scrap collection a trifle far by smashing into the other fellow's tender.—Indianapolis Star.

How About 1944?

Landslide in This Year's Voting Changes Political Outlook.

By JACK STINEBT
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—The capital political observers are just now during themselves off and getting back on their feet. That election knocked them for a ground-loop.

There have been landslides before and there will be again. But the old horses around here can't remember one that caught the politicians themselves, let alone off base. Republican Leader Joe Martin and his cohorts, having their secret dreams, didn't see anything like that. Sen. Alben Barkley and his boys had nightmares, perhaps, but they didn't go as far as what happened.

Now, it came down to taking stock, and when it comes to that the oldtimers aren't much better off than they were on that Wednesday morning when the return rolled in.

There are, however, several rubies to that keep clapping up in any discussion.

What About 1944?

No. 1 is what effect this is going to have on 1944. To try to predict at this time is a waste of words. The war can be over at its best, or at its worst in 1944. Whatever happens, will change the situation. But one thing is being repeated constantly around Washington today. Both parties are in a mess.

The GOP, for all its staggering gains, is looking tight down both barrels of a war-torn gun. One is named Thomas E. Dewey and the other Wendell Willkie. Sometime between now and the next general election they are going to have to duck one or the other. Will it be Willkie and the impressive vote he rolled in two years ago against the greatest vote-getter the country has ever seen? Or will it be Dewey, who upset the Democratic incumbent in his dash into the governorship of New York?

How will third-term Governor Brecker, of Ohio, and Governor Stassen, of Ohio, fit into the picture? Dewey's precedent shattering victory can't be brushed off but neither can the fact that a Willkie Democrat, running on a Republican ticket, turned out New Deal Sen. J. H. Pendergast in normalcy. Dewey, the Oklahoma, or that Charlie Boothe, Texas, a staunch Willkieite from the days of the hat, walked into office as a Connecticut congressman.

Wrong Guesses.

I don't believe capital observers from now on will ignore the fact that it's just possible Joe Voter doesn't give a whoop about all this behind-the-scenes business, but they can't forget either that with Mr. A. Politician, a bread-and-butter and the future of democracy, if the in-man can't guess better what the public wants than he did in this crisis then Congress, the only elected body in Washington, should be better told its fate.

Just as a postscript, it might be worth mentioning that Washington is saying that our ington is saying that so far as World War II is concerned prohibition is a dead issue. It's likely that Senator Lee's defeat in Oklahoma had several other factors involved than that dry amendment he endeavored to tack onto the 18-19 draft law.

WHEAT PRICES NOW CLOSE TO CEILING

Limit on Flour Acts As Check on Grain.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 — Wheat prices are close to ceiling levels, grain men say, which accounts largely for the lack of important buying last week and the unsettled condition of the market. Although no actual ceiling has been placed on wheat prices, traders said the limits on flour amount to this.

Should prices here rise two or three cents, they said, the local flour market probably would be thrown again into a deadlock similar to that which prevailed immediately after the flour ceiling was announced last Oct. 3. This situation already has developed in some markets, particularly in the southwest.

Where this has occurred, millers complain they cannot sell flour and maintain profitable operations because wheat prices are too high and flour prices cannot be advanced to compensate. Traders here pointed out that cash wheat prices at Kansas city, which presumably is representative of most of the southwest, have advanced to about the levels that prevailed during the Sept. 28-Oct. 2 period of which flour ceilings are based. At Chicago and Minneapolis, however, prices are 2 to 3 cents below levels quoted there.

Grain men said the flour ceiling and the government program to make cash wheat available for flour manufacture at prices compatible with the ceiling, though additional subsidies to farmers, has made many interests in the trade both buyers and sellers, indifferent to the market. Normally there is considerable buying ahead of flour, cash wheat and wheat futures largely for protection against price advance, but this is not as necessary under present conditions, they said.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 14.—The retail price of milk in Ohio ranges from 11 to 15 cents a quart and the cost of table cream varies from 11 to 19 cents a half-pint, a survey by the federal and state agriculture departments showed today.

The localities and cost of delivery influence the prices. For instance, Chillicothe housewives pay 11 cents a quart for milk at grocery stores, 12 cents if it is delivered. RAF REPORTS GOOD RESULTS OVER GENOA

Bombers Make Second Long Flight in Three Nights.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Home-based RAF bombers attacked Genoa last night, making their second attack in three nights and the fourth this month on the north Italian naval base and port.

"Good results were seen," the RAF ministry announced.
Coastal command craft were reported to have hit a medium sized ship supply off the Norwegian coast yesterday.

In neither the North sea today nor the 1,500-mile round trip to Italy was a single plane lost.

"The weather was good and the attack was concentrated," it was stated authoritatively this morning.

Genoa has been blasted again and again to cut its value as a source of axis strength in the North African fighting ashore and afloat.

London commentators expressed belief that the British bombers had concentrated again on the Ansaldo works, which manufacture engines for warships.

"Further very large damage"
was caused by the raid at Genoa, the Italian high command said in its broadcast communique. It added that four persons were killed and 23 injured.

The RAF, meanwhile, announced another destructive blow at the axis-held Tunis airbase at dusk Saturday, and further attacks after dark which destroyed six big German planes and left 100 port buildings ablaze.

Establishment of contact between the British and American assault forces from eastern Britain and the Germans and Italians in Tunisia, keystone to control of North Africa and the narrows of the central Mediterranean, was announced by the allied-controlled Morocco radio at 9 p.
m. (3 p. m. Marion time) yesterday.

It was not disclosed immediately where the fighting had started but it seemed likely that the powerful allied force engaged the enemy close to his chief prize, Bizerte, 70 miles east of the Algerian border, and Tunis, 80 miles southeast of Bizerte and 80 miles from the border.

Axis Works in Haste
The Morocco radio said the axis was working feverishly to get reinforcements by ship and plane through to these positions.

General Anderson's British-American striking force crossed the Tunisian frontier east of the Algerian port of Bone which the allies took last week. A Vichy broadcast said that paratroops which the allies dropped at Bone had taken only five minutes to capture Italian troops who landed there.

Admiral Jean Darlan proclaimed himself administrator of French North Africa, where the forces of Loyal, Gen. Dwight D.
Eisenhower's AEF was consolidated.
Darlan's position was confirmed by the allies.

The German-controlled Vichy radio, however, broadcast a disclaimer in the name of Marshal Petain declaring Darlan dismissed from all military commands and public functions.

Across the Mediterranean large numbers of Vichy troops arrived at Tunis to Garrison the naval base which the German bypassed in their occupation of southern France for fear that the French fleet there would cross over to the allies rather than fall into German hands.

The Morocco radio said the Italians had decided a state of siege at Agadez and other towns of Algeria as a result of resistance which French garrisons put up against Italian forces occupying the island.

A communique from Cairo said the British Eighth army had occupied the landing ground at Matruba, between Tobruk and Derna yesterday while other forces swept westward in Rommel's heels.

Allied planes kept up their relentless bombing of the remnant of his once-proud North Africa army which pushed within 70 miles of the British naval base at Alexandria before the stunning defeat which left more than 75-000 axis soldiers in desert graves, hospitals or prison camps.

300 Investigators
To Check Gas Stations
CLEVELAND, Nov. 15.—The office of price administration announced that more than 300 special investigators would patrol filling stations in Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana and Michigan when gasoline rationing becomes effective Dec. 1.

The investigators' first job will be to check the capacity of filling station tanks and their supplies of gasoline as of 12:01 a. m., Dec.
1, said Birket L. Williams, regional administrator.

They hope to thwart any scheme to conceal gasoline which could be bootlegged later.

SIX FIREMEN DEAD, 40 HURT IN BOSTON

Men Trapped As Wall of Old Armory Collapses.

BOSTON, Nov. 15.—In one of the greatest tragedies in the history of the city since the turn of the century, six firemen were killed and 40 others were injured today after being pulled from the debris of an old Armory
Hall in Maverick square, East Boston.

Fire Chief Samuel J. Pope said the fire started in a restaurant in the kitchen of a restaurant.
It estimated damage to the four-story structure at $55,000. In addition, a $20,000 semi-trailer truck was crushed when a wall of the building collapsed.

The fire in armory hall, once a scene of political rallies and more recently housing a top room, restaurant, a liquor store and a dine and dance place known as Lafayette's cafe, appeared to be a routine two-alarm blaze when it was discovered at about 2:30 a.
m. yesterday.

Firemen apparently had it under control and a number of them had entered the building to quell the remaining flames when a wall on the street side collapsed without warning.

Part of the wall fell inward, causing the death of the six firemen and temporarily trapping others, while the other part tumbled outward, showering debris on firemen on the sidewalk.

STEEL INDUSTRY INVENTORY BETTER

Less Difficulty Met in Filling Orders.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 15.—Better inventory balance in steel supply and munitions agencies is the major factor in improving the overall position of the industry, the magazine Steel reports today.

"This does not mean that tonnage is easily available, but that it can be obtained with less difficulty," especially in shapes, plates, sheets, and smaller size bars.

"Inventory controls have prevented unduly large accumulations of steel and have prevented it from being reduced," the magazine explains.

Recent retarding downward, giving top ratings more meaning, supports the idea that the steel situation is better for those who have first need for tonnage.
Principal shortage is seen in alloy steels.

An all-time high of 7,584 net tons of steel ingots and castings were reduced in October. This October tonnage, steel says, is about 385,000 tons greater than the entire rated capacity of Japan.

"Shipments of finished steel by the U. S. Steel Corp. for Nov. 1 aggregated 17,518,977 net tons, the highest for that period in the history of the corporation," and more than one-half million tons greater than in the same period of last year.

The national production rate rose 15 point last week to 99 per cent of capacity. Rates were up at Wheeling, 2 points to 83 per cent; Cincinnati, 3 points to 91, and Detroit 5 points to 96. Cleveland dropped 41 points to 93, and rates were unchanged at Pittsburgh, 93; eastern Pennsylvania, 96; Buffalo, 90 1/2; and Youngstown, 97.

Gen. Eisenhower Would Like To See More Action

By WES GALLAGHER
U. S. Correspondent with the APF in North Africa

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS,
NORTH AFRICA, Nov. 15.—(AP)—
Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower gave the impression that he would like to see more action in the North African campaign.

The tough, Texas-born commander, who with Admiral Sir Andrew B. Cunningham, commanded the Allied forces in the North African campaign, gave out, blurted out the other day.

The man who has tens of thousands at his call from privates to admirals is unable to fulfill his fondest desire to see front-line action.

Sixteen hours a day he is at his desk, snapping out decisions with a speed and dash which makes him the envy of all who watch him.

The flying trip which nearly ended in disaster was one of the few occasions on which General Eisenhower has been able to break away from headquarters. With Admiral Cunningham, he flew to Algiers in a flying fortress to look over the military and political situation.

On the return trip, the plane ran into foul weather and evidently was less than 40 feet high when it made a frantic effort to order the plane to another field, but the plane already was short of fuel and the order didn't get through anyway.

With clouds and mist almost touching the ground, the pilot, Capt. A. E. Archibaker, brought the plane in and later received a commendatory letter from Gen.
Eisenhower.

"My staff was mad as hell at me," the general said later.
Besides decision of military strategy, the supreme commander must handle delicate political matters, serve as head of the largest mass of shipping ever gathered into one force, direct the movements of two complete air forces and see that they are supplied with men and material, and look after the welfare, personal and military, of a number of men greater than that hired by a great corporation.

DARLAN

Prater, and he pretends to act in my name.
"I am not a man to yield to force. To subordinate to the commander is to insult me."
At the moment Africa was attacked I entrusted Admiral Darlan with defense of the French sovereignty, of which I am the guardian.

"From the very beginning, the admiral did not hesitate to enter into an agreement with the allies, and in giving the premature order to cease fire, disorganized resistance and shattered the morale of the troops."

"I had repeatedly continued the order to defend Africa."
He has failed to recognize the order solely under the pretext of preventing a rebel chief and felon, General Giraud, from usurping command of these troops.

"Today he has confirmed his nomination."
General Giraud has been rejected by those foreign powers who brought the war to French territory. The admiral has thus placed himself outside the national community.

"I hereby declare that he has been deprived of all public functions and every military command."

Buckeyes, Minus Star Halfbacks, Prepare for Crucial Michigan Game

Loss of Tommy James Handicaps Ohio for Game Deciding Big 10 Race.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 16—Ohio State's battering Bucks today found their work cut out for them — beat Michigan to win the Western conference football championship.

Just how difficult that task may be, however, is reflected by the 32 to 20 pasting that Michigan gave strong Notre Dame Saturday while Ohio was moving into undisputed first place in the conference by trouncing Illinois 41 to 20 at Cleveland.

Expect 70,000

A sell-out crowd of 70,000 is anticipated for Saturday in Ohio stadium to see Michigan and Ohio resume a brooding duel that started last year in a 20-all deadlock.

It Ohio fans, Michigan it will repeat its 1932 performance of winning the championship with one conference loss on its record. Ohio was beaten by Wisconsin Oct. 31.

The Bucks are preparing for the championship battle without the services of their newly discovered climax runner, Halfback Tommy James of Massillon.

James, a red-haired, 160-pound speedster, sprinted 76 and 33 yards for touchdowns against Illinois, then suffered a shoulder dislocation when knocked out of bounds on the frozen ground in the second period.

Slusser To Sub

James' injury put George Slusser, pass-throwing ace from Massillon, in the position of having to alternate at left halfback for Paul Sarriughian and at right halfback for Les Horvath.

It also complicated further Coach Paul Brown's halfback problem, aggravated by injuries in the Pittsburgh game. Besides James, halfbacks on the sidelines with injuries are: Bill Durtsch of Gallon, the team's best punter, Thomas Cleary of Cleveland, Hob Fye of Crestline and Paul Selby of Columbus.

Durtsch may play some Saturday, but the others are out of action for the season.

While the long runs of James and Horvath, who sprinted 36 yards, and Sarriughian who covered 47 yards for a touchdown in receiving his first pass of the season, thrilled the crowd of 68,656, it was Ohio's line play that made possible much of the triumph.

Roy Elliot, new Illinois coach, attributed the Ohio win to "just too much speed and power."

Snatches of Sports

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—Ever hear the one about how "Germany" Schurz, Michigan's great center of 1904-08, made an all-American player out of Bill Hollenbach? . . . This is the way Harvard's Dick Harlow tells it: When Penn played Michigan in 1908, Schurz knocked out both Penn centers in the first half. A sub lineer was hurriedly instructed how to pass the ball on five plays, and make sure the quarterback wouldn't try any others, the coach chalked the numbers of these five on the seat of the new center's pants . . . On the first scrimmage, Schurz made the center sit down hard, and when he came up, only one number was legible . . . The quarterback had to keep calling that one—no and run by Hollenbach—and Bill looked so good that he won all-American fame.

Making a Hill—Earl (Tubby) of the Louisville Courier-Journal tells this one about a football coach who was trying his best to get the players worked up for a big game . . . "The day of the game the coach failed to appear . . . The kids were denning their uniforms when the phone in the dressing room rang . . . "I'm in the hospital," came the coach's voice over the wire. "I got run down by an automobile filled with our opponents. Think they tried to kill me. Go in there and win that game for your old coach." . . . "The kids went easily, and an assistant coach hurried to the hospital with the news . . . "It worked, boss," he shouted. "We won easy. Get up and let's celebrate." . . . "Celebrate, it—," moaned the coach, "I really got hit."

Monday Matinee—When he goes overseas for the Red Cross, Freddie Coreanu, the PGA tournament man, wants another peek at Scotland's Troon course . . . "But the RAF used it for a practice bombing field and the craters and natural hazards that resulted made it one of the most difficult and picturesque courses in the world."

HERE'S LINE-UP FOR FINAL WEEK-END OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL

Cincinnati and Ohio Northern Teams Grab State Laurels.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 16—Cincinnati and Ohio Northern today demanded the attention of three Ohio football fans dazzled by Ohio State university's performance.

Cincinnati is undefeated in state competition, and has only two games—in which it is the favorite—to play.

Ohio Northern is champion of the Ohio conference.

Outside the rampaging Ohio Staters, who crushed Illinois 41 to 20 at Cleveland Saturday and can win the Big Ten title by beating Michigan this week, Cincinnati appears to be the state's outstanding eleven on the basis of its 20 to 0 shutout of Dayton.

Cincinnati has lost only two games, both to big-time out-of-state foes—Georgia and Tennessee. It has yet to play Xavier and Miami, but neither the Musketeers nor the Indians appear capable of pulling an upset.

Ohio Northern beat Heidelberg 15 to 0 to repeat its 1931 performance of winning an undisputed Ohio conference championship. Last year, it split top honors with Bowling Green and Case.

Northern's high scoring offensive ran up 109 points to the opposition's 13 in winning five league games and tying one without a defeat.

Millard "Lefty" Murphy, who coached the Polar Bears, is a newcomer to the conference. He coached Ada high school last year before succeeding Harris Lamb, who resigned.

Only one game remains to be played in the conference, that between Denison and Wittenberg Saturday at Granville.

Cincinnati tackles Xavier Saturday in the traditional clash between those backyard Cincinnati rivals. Xavier lost last Saturday 20 to 14 to Ohio U., which was beaten earlier by Cincinnati, 26 to 7.

With 15 of Ohio's 34 football-playing colleges through with the gridiron sport for 1942, here's the remaining schedule:

Saturday: Michigan at Ohio State; Wittenberg at Denison; Ohio Wesleyan at Western Reserve; Xavier at Cincinnati; Wright at Patterson at Wooster; Earlham at Oberlin; Bradley Tech at Toledo; Grosse Ile at Bowling Green; Youngstown-Fort Knox at Louisville.

Thanksgiving day: Ohio U. at Dayton; Miami at Cincinnati; Wilberforce at West Virginia State; John Carroll at Akron; Case at Western Reserve.

Nov. 28—Iowa Seahawks at Ohio State.

RAMS ASSURED OF THIRD PLACE IN LOOP

Score 27-7 Victory Over Detroit Lions Sunday.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 16—Dutch Clark's Cleveland Rams are about to wind up their most successful season in National Football league history.

As a result of their 27 to 7 triumph over the Detroit Lions yesterday, the Rams are virtually assured of finishing in third place in the Western division—behind the powerhouse Chicago Bears and the Green Bay Packers, and ahead of the Chicago Cardinals and the Lions. Never before has the Cleveland club done that well.

Only one more game remains on the Rams' schedule—a visit to Chicago a week from Sunday for the almost hopeless chore of trying to beat the Bears. A loss in that one would give Cleveland five wins and six setbacks.

AYRES SAYS FULL WAR EFFORT NEEDED

U. S. Production Now Three-Fifths for Armed Services.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Nov. 16—Already about three-fifths of America's production consists of war goods, and the controlled materials plan shows us "we have got to put into this war effort everything that we have," says Brig. Gen. Leonard P. Ayres.

September computations of the federal reserve index of industrial production indicate about 60 per cent of manufacturing output was durable goods, General Ayres noted today in the Cleveland Trust Co. business bulletin.

"These figures give us a rough, but tolerably reliable indication that already about three-fifths of our production consists of war goods," he said. "This is quite in line with figures recently released by the bureau of agricultural economics, which forecast that by June of next year two-thirds of this country's total production will be devoted to war purposes."

The WPB's controlled materials plan "should be supported by the fullest cooperation of all concerned," the economist declared. "The essential significance of the new plan is that it tells us in cold, clear terms that we have got to put into this war effort everything we have. Nothing less than that will be enough."

Discussing undistributed earnings of corporations, General Ayres said that during the first 11 years following it, "American corporate enterprise, taken as a whole, accumulated about 30 billions of undistributed earnings, and then drew upon its reserves for more than that huge amount during the great depression."

"At the present time this country's corporate enterprise has only small amounts of accumulated savings, and as the post-war outlook for business will largely depend on savings that can be made during this period."

The retired army officer said "it is estimated that American business saved about 2.6 billions after taxes and dividends last year, and that the corresponding amount will be smaller this year." He asserted it is of "utmost importance" that "corporations should be allowed to accumulate sufficient savings during the war period to enable them to recon-vert for peace-time production after the war, so as to be able promptly to provide regular jobs for workers."

Buenos Aires expects to save 200,000 tons of fuel annually by closing all theaters and motion picture houses an hour earlier, and providing certain street lighting and extinguishing lights in all store windows.

Galion Gridded Passes Captaincy On to Brother

Future of North Central Ohio conference basketball will be decided at a meeting of league officials and school representatives Tuesday night at Galion.

GALION, Nov. 16—Succeeding his brother, Dick Secrest, as co-captain of the University of Rochester football team, Jim Secrest has been elected co-captain of the team for the 1943 season.

Two players, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Secrest, have played stellar roles in this year's grid season at Rochester. Jim is currently the east's leading scorer with 96 points to his credit.

Coach Bud DeGroot has announced that Jim and Irving "Bud" Baybutt, of Rochester, N. Y., will succeed Dick Secrest and Dick Kramer of Butler, Pa., as co-captains for next year.

Secrest is a member of Psi Upsilon social fraternity and holds a Rochester prize scholarship. He is also a member of the Rochester Traditions committee.

Do Buying Early, Shoppers Advised

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Nov. 16—If you're going to resolve to do your Christmas shopping early this year—and then, as in previous years, break your resolution and join the last-minute shoppers—you're going to be mighty sorry.

Merchants suggested today that to save the wear and tear on nerves, the shop-worn and over-worked slogan "do your Christmas shopping early" should be considered with deepest earnestness this season. They even argued it was a patriotic duty.

They based their arguments on two principal factors: (A) a shortage of help in the stores and a scarcity of competent extra helpers for the expected rush, and (B) transportation difficulties, including both the handling of customers and the delivery of their packages.

High school and college students are being recruited in large numbers for temporary positions. Distributors to retail stores have announced there would be sufficient supplies of most goods but merchants warned that early shoppers would fare best.

Ohio State - Michigan Battle Is Nation's No. 1 Contest

Minnesota and Wisconsin Clash in No. 2 Feature Saturday's Western Conference Slate.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 16—That interesting point in the football season, when most of the talk swings to bowls and bowl opponents, is here again but it's just so much chatter to the folks around the Big Ten conference where they play their games in season and quit when December rolls around.

The Big Ten, with its policy against post-season games, has the laugh on the promoters of the January classes, for in that loop they play at least one game each week which would fill any bowl in the land any day in the year.

Gophers vs. Badgers

Another in this weekly series is on tap for Saturday when mighty Michigan, who on lamost-Notre Dame, 32-20, last week takes on Ohio State, a team that humbled powerful Illinois, will come a rivalry that has more than a century in the last 15 years.

Minnesota, 27-7, coming from Iowa, meets Wisconsin, 26-7, losing to Iowa the game of the season. Indiana goes against Northwestern, while Northwestern meets Ohio State, 20-0, at Marquette, in non-conference games.

In the east, there seems nobody left with enough energy to find out just how good a college really is. After Fordham, 56-6, Boston meets lightly regarded Boston University.

Harvard, freed from a victory over Brown, has a victory-laden argument with Princeton, plays Army, and the winning side with a 1-0 over Virginia Tech. After Pennsylvania, 19-7, States takes on Pitt.

Southeastern Card Georgia Tech, which kept record clean by blanking Army, 7-0, and Florida, 15-0, while Georgia, 40-0, wins Chattanooga, 30-0, and turns team that whipped Louisiana State, 25-7.

Other Southeastern headfind Alabama meeting Vanderbilt and Kentucky playing Tennessee and North Carolina, a tangle in the Southern loop offering.

Texas Christian, which lost Southwest conference a three-point possibility by stopping Texas, 7, meets Rice Baylor, who is unbeaten against Tulsa, goes against Southern Methodist, U. C. L. A., still in position to overhaul Washington State for Pacific Coast conference, meets a Washington team that St. Mary's pre-flight to a second draw.

Future N. C. O. Cage Program Up for Decision Tuesday.

Future of North Central Ohio conference basketball will be decided at a meeting of league officials and school representatives Tuesday night at Galion.

Rejection a year ago, the same plan may meet with less opposition this year in view of present conditions within the country. Undoubtedly with the nation at war, recommendations to keep sports programs active and various other conditions resulting from the war will give all league officials an altogether different light on any plan furthering an athletic program.

Exactly what steps to assure the Hardings a cage program will be taken by school officials is not certain. A plan, one which has been under consideration for many months, establishing the Edison Junior High court as the local's home floor may be offered to other league members.

Rejected a year ago, the same plan may meet with less opposition this year in view of present conditions within the country. Undoubtedly with the nation at war, recommendations to keep sports programs active and various other conditions resulting from the war will give all league officials an altogether different light on any plan furthering an athletic program.

Although no official action by any league school has been taken, a motion abolishing the league's reserve basketball group is expected to be introduced.

Attending the meeting at Galion Tuesday night will be Principal O. H. P. Snyder of Harding High school, Dewey N. Behr, athletic director and basketball coach, Victor Dorris, head football coach, Joseph Petrich, assistant football and basketball coach; E. Paul Huffman, faculty manager.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Nature of Tuberculosis

"FROM Consumption to Tuberculosis in Connecticut" is the title of a pamphlet which came to my desk. Its philosophy is intended to denote the change that has occurred in the public viewpoint of the disease. It was called "consumption" in 1900 and consumption meant a disease that relentlessly consumed its victim. It is called tuberculosis now, which means we know the cause, we know it is a contagious disease, and therefore preventable, and also we know ways of treating it that result in cure.

The year 1900 is selected because about that time the Gaylord Farm Sanitarium was erected, one of the first hospitals exclusively for the treatment of tuberculosis to be financed by a state legislature.

As the building was being built near Wallingford, a New England family living in a nearby farmhouse watched it with mixed emotions of interest and skepticism. The oldest son of the family had died of consumption, the oldest daughter was in the last stages of the disease and two of the remaining children had coughs. They had been told this was to be a hospital for curing consumption. But how foolish it seemed to them. They had been told, they knew from experience tuberculosis was an incurable disease. They thought it was hereditary because didn't they all have it in the family?

They were not the only ones who thought that way. The legislature was only with great difficulty persuaded to pass the appropriation for the sanitarium and they voted a niggardly $25,000. The public itself was skeptical and the medical society was constrained to issue a pronouncement as follows—how far away it seems as we read it:

"Resolved, that through the public press we announce to the citizens of our state that the disease generally known as consumption is not hereditary, but acquired; it is caused by a germ; that the germ is found in the sputum of persons sick of the disease, and that by the complete destruction of all such sputum, consumption can be made to disappear. That consumptives in hospitals should be in a ward by themselves."

Well, that was in 1900. The comparative statistics of tuberculosis in Connecticut testify to the wisdom and foresight of the founders of Gaylord.

Deaths

Year	Pop.	Deaths	Ratio
1900	208,355	16,300	1,896
1940	1,711,800	17,680	592

When the Gaylord Farm Sanitarium was opened there was $92 in the treasury. But Dr. Foster, one of the directors, said: "The people want to know if or not the disease can be cured it is only by taking the patient to a high mountain climate. They are surprised that we are building a hospital to treat it in the very climate here right next door to where their dear ones have sickened and died. Naturally they

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

OLINA's tremulous question and choked back sob decided me. I saw that she was suffering, and had appealed to me for sympathy. Whether because of sympathy, or for the affectionate understanding I tentatively pray some woman will give to my own beloved small daughter, Faith, if she ever needs it when she is grown-up.

Then a sudden thought struck me: Olina's mother was near; why didn't she confide in her? But when I heard another choked sob I put my hand tenderly on Olina's bowed head.

"Of course, Olina," I said. "Tell me anything you wish."

Not a Pretty Story

She raised her great eyes to mine, with an abandoned look, and said:

"It isn't a pretty story—in spots—and parts of it you know already. But I think it is your due to hear it in full, and perhaps when I have finished you will realize why I did some of the things for which you very properly condemned me."

Her voice trailed off into silence for a minute before she quickly picked up the fan picture she had received and beat lightly upon it with the tips of her fingers.

"Have you figured out the meaning of this yet?" she asked, with evident anxiety, and whether by accident or design her forefinger was resting on the picture just where a tiny sliver of white projected from the slightly away left-hand gate post.

I decided at once to tell her the meaning I had read into the fan letter, but which I had agreed with her mother, called Queen Olga, should be kept from Olina for awhile.

Recalls Old Talk

Now I recalled that the scrap of excited colloquy which I had overheard between them just after Olina had showed the fan letter and picture to me, had convinced me that they both had a theory about the writer of the letter are unwilling to risk much money. We must go on with what we have. If the work proves good, the people will not let it fall. If it is no good, it ought to fail."

It proved good, and the people have not let it fall. Do your share this year again by buying Christmas seals.

when they were then unwilling to reveal to me. "Of course, of course," I said. "But I believe these gate posts are meant to represent those at Fair Harbor, where you loved the summer you were on Long Island, and I think this tiny sliver of white is a reminder that the letter box of the left-hand post was used as a letter box for messages we at the sanitarium did not dare send through the mail, also, I suppose, for letters of the 'intimate' kind—passionate—quarrelled as my husband used to call you and Noel and Mary and George."

I was almost sure I had used the old conjunction of names, when I saw the distressed flush staining Olina's cheeks.

Gate Post Her Letter Box

"Yes," she said, "Noel and I used that post box, and I think George and Mary did also. Ah, how far away that old time seems! I wonder—"

Looking from beneath my lashes I saw that she was too engrossed in the painting to tell me the story she had wanted to relate, but anxious to hear anything else I had to say about the painting.

"Did you see the faint dotted line leading from the last note of the word 'Scotland' in the song, down to the gate post, with something like an arrow at the post?" I asked.

"Oh, no," she said, taking up the painting and scanning it closely, "but I see it now. What do you think it means?"

"It can mean only one thing," I said, "that the writer of the letter wants you to know that he took the high road, by the air, while you took the low road, by boat, and that he will be at The Larches before you."

Duck with Brood Of 62 Has Pond Of Own

By The United Press

PHILADELPHIA—Mother Macchree, the Philadelphia Zoo's Muscovy duck, probably wishes she had a wingspread like the airplanes that soar overhead.

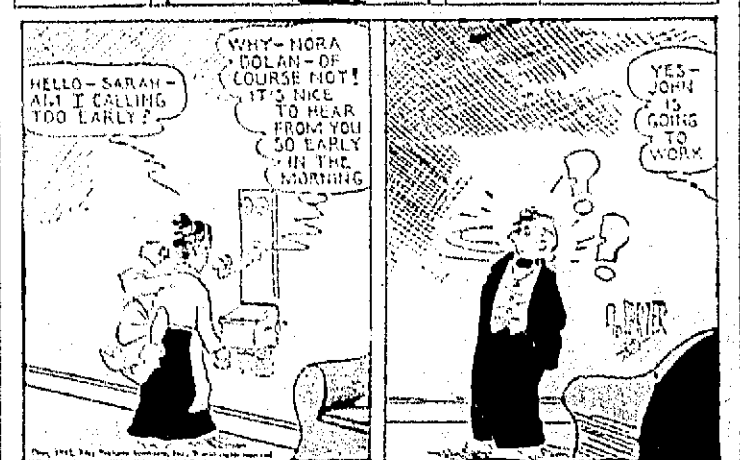

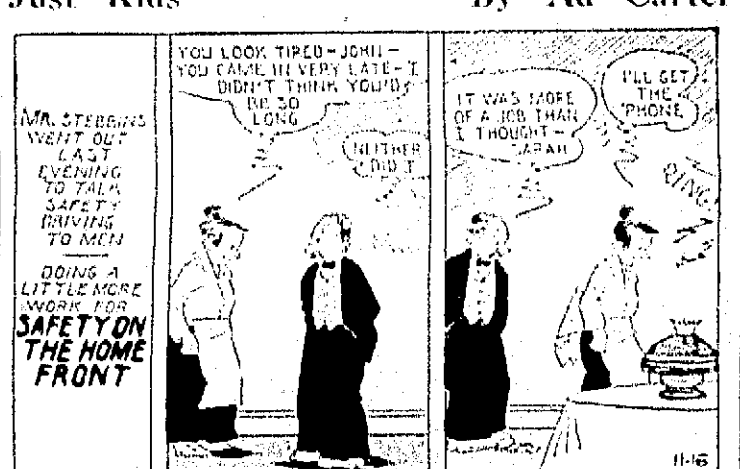

Mother Macchree had a number of ducklings of her own—but the mother instinct was strong. She found other ducklings wandering around, apparently abandoned, and adopted them. Now she has a brood of 62.

Her family has been given a small pond of its own.
